DRAMATICS CLUB REHEARSES PLAY

'The Potter Pigeon' to Be Presented May 22; Schumacher Takes Lead.

A bit of entertainment is again getting under way at the Dramatics club rehearses "The Potter Pigeon," to be given May 22, in the Wartburg auditorium.

The play is a clever comedy written by English Lyons. If you will look into your dictionary, you'll find that potter pigeon is a bird that fluffs, fluffs, and puts out its feathers, saying, "Look out World! Here I come!" That's just the kind of character that Philander Royal, played by Art Schumacher, shows himself to be in fact he's such a tyrant that his wife Opelia and daughter, Alice (Greta Mursch and Darlyce Freese) can't get their souls their own way. Into the picture comes the son of their home come Philander's brother Steven with his wife Sylvia and a deep-seated case of love, respectively by James Mendenhall, Paul Leos, and Bob Wiester. As the complications develop, which include an elopement, Hilda, the maid (Emma Schmitz), in the course of the important roles. It's a question of squelching the paternal tyrant and how it is done makes a sparkling, uproarious farce that leaves the audience holding their breath.

Come May 22 and see "Six Seniors Tyrannus carried out to the letter."

Senior Day has become a cherished institution at Wartburg College. The college is proud to be host to the young men and women who must be graduated this spring.

To visit classes, attend convocation, inspect laboratories, museum, library, dormitories and other college facilities; to attend college-sponsored musical, social, and athletic programs in short, to see a college in action, that is the purpose of Senior Day.

To attain this purpose, high school seniors should come prepared to enjoy a full program of entertainment and instruction. Friends, class sponsors, and parents are urged to attend.

At present, the college has high school seniors of 1943!—E. J. Braulick, President.

Field House Proposed Instead of Auditorium

Alumni Consider Possibility; Plans Still Indefinite.

Construction of a field house at Wartburg instead of the proposed chapel-auditorium is being considered by the alumni building committee. It was learned yesterday.

This new proposal is to be presented to the alumni at their regular meeting during convocation, and the board of regents and the board of Christian Higher education before final action could be taken.

This group feels that possession of such a structure would be a great help to the college, directly and indirectly, that the structure would be useful for large convocations, and that it would have many other incidental uses in addition to its obvious value for athletic purposes.

It is this group's further suggestion that the dressing rooms and the raised seats in the present gymnasium be torn out, and the present floor widened to provide additional seating space for conventions, plays, and other similar needs.

Such a plan would practically double the seating capacity, and it is believed that the change would not be costly.

At present, the college's Java conference basketball games are played in the high school gymnasium because the college gymnasium floor is too small.

KEEP IN STEP!

The Dramatics club has a new play under way. The college has invited several high schools to Wartburg for the annual Senior day. Our baseball and football season are working out fairly attempting to perfect strong teams. Coach Bergmann is valiantly trying to lay a sidewalk. The Trumpet puts out an issue every two weeks after a tremendous effort on the part of a meager portion of the staff. All these undertakings are being fulfilled. All are the result of two things—work and cooperation.

But it is enough merely to accomplish, to say that we have completed a task? Surely the success of these endeavors is all the important thing. Not all plays, Senior days, athletic teams, and Trumpet issues are successes. The projects can be completed by work, but when they lack that polish that goes to make a success, the missing factor usually has been cooperation.

Pull in your own direction, and you will often counteract someone else's efforts. Pull with the other fellow, and your project receives added impetus. Come on fellow students! Let's get together and give our undertakings the "works", achieve successes that can be called triumphs. Remember the mother who while watching the parade said, "They're all out of step but Johnny."

INVENTORY

I'm going to be a teacher. I get along with children. I have patience, courage, and strength of character. I am ready to set myself before my pupils as an example of the types of men and women I want them to be. I strive daily to the utmost of my ability to master the subject matter which I teach. My talents are constantly exercised and developed so that I may have more to share with others in the future, be they pupils or fellow teachers. My highest goal in college is to prepare myself as well as it is humanly possible using every advantage God has given me, in body and in mind.

I'm going to be a minister. I feel it my duty to follow a divine call to serve mankind in this capacity. I take advantage of every opportunity which presents itself to make my work in this noble calling more successful. There are times when social life has to be neglected, but it is my goal, not my pleasure, which I keep in mind. I need the strength and courage to meet the temptations of life through frequent, regular communions with my Savior. I keep myself right with God at all times so that I may be better able to lead others to Him.

But, do I?

ARE YOU READY TO VOTE MONDAY?

Just what is this new constitution all about? The student body in general seemed to be in a state of misunderstanding after yesterday's convocation period when it was presented to them. In order to clarify the situation the Trumpet here sets forth the theory and principles of the proposed setup.

For four months a committee from the student council has been working on this document which, if adopted, will revise our entire system of student government to a more democratic one. It would establish a Faculty-Student council, a body second in power only to the president, which would consist of an equal number of students and faculty members with the aid of the college as chairman. This group would supervise, correlate, and direct the activities of all student-faculty committees, and handle minor disciplinary cases.

The present student council would be replaced by a senate of larger membership. Student representatives on student-faculty committees would be elected by the student body.

In all respects this is not the ideal setup. It is however, the best that can be gotten at this time and would mark a definite step forward toward that ideal.

PRE-THE

Luke 24:50-51. And He led them out as far as to Bethany, and He lifted up His hands and blessed them. And it came to pass, while He blessed them, He was parted from them and was carried up into heaven.

They went to the Mount of Olives, the place where Gethsemane lay; to the place of ascension. What may have moved the hearts of the disciples, especially of Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, when the Lord passed over the brook Kedron with them? Here, 43 days earlier, they had witnessed the deepest agony of His soul. His strong crying had reached even their sleep-dull hearts. The place of our humiliation and of our exaltation often lies close together. It was here that Christ raised His hands and gave them His blessing.

They convey the blessing, for they are Christ's hands. They are the hands that held the mark of the nails that mark the character of the Messiah. Where all was once darkness, there presently through the grace of God, the heavens are opened and the blessings of God shed upon us.

The simple phrase, "And it came to pass," indicates the great need of the ascension act. While His hands were uplifted in blessing, light arose from the earth, becoming and ascending.

With this act our Lord finished His work on this earth. His disciples carried on where He left off. They labored, blessed, and were blessed even as their Lord, had done. We lift up our hands, blessed by His heavenly Father. Let us follow those noble examples. Let us lift up our hands, also, and be pleased and exalted on that great day blessed.—O. Zeitzner.

Diogenes'

Questionnaire

Are you in favor of "Butch" haircuts?

Lois Reaser: No, I don't like to see men, even though they are in style. It makes them look like skinned rats!

Elmer Reissner: Yes, of course. Think of all the energy a butch savior by doing away with hair combs.

Olivia Dyer: I think they're o.k. The boys can let their hair down, grow long hair, and wear on cutters, and wear stip curls for all I care.

Mary Hartmann: Definitely not. It reminds me of escaped convicts.

Marg Reardon: Yes, I like butches because it gives the boys that "something" the girls are constantly looking for.

Flores Frasin: Yes, I'm in favor of them for some individuals. I don't like hair ashyatics, butches are cute!

Jan Lyness: No, I think a butch looks terrible. It's the only kind of haircut boys can get so that they can comb their hair with a towel.

Dorothy Band: No, butches are just an excuse because they're too lazy to comb their hair.

Rachel Brownson, Marjorie Heibel, and Florence Frasin, chairman, were in charge of the refreshments.

PI Sigma

"How to apply for a job" was the topic discussed by Mrs. Hagmann at the PI Sigma meeting, Apr. 19, 4 p.m., in Wartburg hall. She stressed appearance as one of the most important factors in applying for a job. Cupcakes and coffee were served. Hazel Rugeberg, Marjorie Pope, Esther Weiss and Rachel Brownson, chairman, were in charge of the refreshments.

Prayer Fellowship

The April 21 meeting of Prayer Fellowship was led by Elmer Heinrichs. He presented and discussed some peculiar burial customs, how they originated, and what their religious significance was. He went on to explain that most of our present day burial customs which we follow only as customs originated in very solemn religious or superstitious rites. A discussion followed.

Lawrence Sanger led the April 28 meeting in discussing the topic of soul-winning. In preparation for the discussion, several of the boys talked the question over with Dr. J. Hutter, head of the Christianity department, and tried to get different points on the subject. The question arose "Does the Lutheran church put enough emphasis on soul-winning?" It was decided to continue discussion at this and other like questions at the next meeting.

Rev. B. F. Root, pastor of St. Andrew's Episcopal church in Waverly, led an informal discussion on the work of a minister at the meeting of the Wartburg Pre-Theological Society, Sunday, April 21. The cult received special emphasis in the discussion. Rev. Root gave the members of the society advice on a number of points, including faith and grace. He also gave some helpful suggestions on the matter of buying books. He interpreted his remarks with accounts of some of his personal experiences during his forty years in the ministry.

Luther League

A social meeting of the Wartburg Luther League was held in Wartburg hall Sunday evening, April 21.

The entertainment committee consisting of Gilbert Meyer, chairman, Joyce Martens, and Nadine Fries, kept the members busy throughout the evening by giving prizes for the best individual and teamwork achievements. for the two days of grad which are providentially intermingled. I am thinking of Senior day and Outfly. The first is definitely set for this coming Wednesday, but what about the second? Can it be Outfly? May 10, and is not like after the 17th, so—I predict, then, if the weather permits, you can all expect our outfly on Wednesday, May 10, and a special picnic that week. Anyhow, we don't care so much just when it comes, we know it will be a welcome oasis in our hot dry journey across the desert. We are looking forward to our hot day of graduation, the celebration, and relaxation.

Third Term, Mexican Life Are Convocation Topics

Plainfield Men, Professors Speak to Student Body

Monday, April 22,

Pres. E. J. Braulick.

"As a man thoughtful in his heart, so his life," was the thought emphasized by Pres. E. J. Braulick in his convocation message on Monday, April 22.

He pointed out the importance of ruling our passions, "Thought," and the speaker, "is action. In every way it makes its influence on your life."

"Since this is true, the selection of a good passion will lead us to a noble ideal, and what greater ideal can we find than Jesus?"

Tuesday, April 23,

Prof. G. Ottensberg.

Wartburg's history professor, G. Ottensberg, spoke in convocation on Tuesday, April 23, discussing the various aspects of a possible presidential third term.

Prof. Ottensberg spent the first portion of his talk in tracing the formation of the American tradition according to which no president has been re-elected for third term. "In the twentieth century," he stated, "the tradition as strictly interpreted has become weakened."

It is the history professor's belief that "the fear of dictatorship would be the biggest factor in opposing a third term."

Wednesday, April 24,

Dr. John Hiltner.

The convocation period on Wednesday, April 24, was devoted to a meditation on the hymn, "Rock of Ages." Dr. Hiltner showed that it is based not only on the thoughts, but even the very words of Scripture.

Monday, April 23,

Kenneth B. Orcutt.

"The 'pangloss' of Mexican life were given in vivid word pictures by Mr. K. B. Orcutt of Plainfield in convocation on April 23.

The first "picture" was of a colorful ball fight. Next, he described a native Mexican hunchman. The third characterized the human sacrificial ceremony of early Mexican inhabitants.

Tuesday, April 23,

Prof. J. Chelleval.

On Tuesday, April 23, Prof. J. Chelleval spoke in convocation and acquainted the student body with the Iowa State Athletic association, of which Wartburg is a member. He discussed the admission into the organization, the dues, membership, and eligibility.

Wednesday, May 1,

Rev. Edgar Walker, Jr.

"Blessed is he who hath seen past the mystery of life and knows the meaning of others" was the heart of the message given in convocation on Wednesday, May 1, by Rev. Edgar Walker, Jr., of Plainfield.

Rev. Walker illustrated his theme with three stories which showed that we must understand the deeper meaning of life if we are to have the right perspective.

Thursday, May 2,

Pres. E. J. Braulick.

An Ascension Day service was held during the convocation period on Thursday, May 2. Pres. E. J. Braulick gave a short sermon and J. Hiltner conducted the liturgical service.

Pres. Braulick said that it is Jesus who wipes away the debris of our lives and reveals the priceless treasure. "How Can I Be Happy?" he asked. "There is no way except to grasp the story of love and to do missionary work."

REGISTRAR

COTTERMAN AT REGISTRAR MEET

Wartburg Represented at National Convention in St. Louis, April 23-25.

Prof. A. D. Cotterman, Wartburg's registrar for the past three years, recently returned from St. Louis, Mo., where he attended the convention of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars. The convention, which marked the twenty-eighth meeting of the organization, met from April 23-25.

Three hundred thirty registrars, assistant registrars, and other officials representing 38 states, the District of Columbia, Canada, and Syria were present.

Addresses and discussions during the morning of the first day were centered around the relations of the United States universities and colleges with those of foreign nations. The booklet was strongly stressed that the United States cannot afford to be unconcerned about establishing, maintaining, and improving these relations, particularly with our neighbors to the south in Latin America.

Tuesday afternoon was devoted to two general topics—the Undergraduate Centers of the Pennsylvania State College, and Adult Education. The general opinion was that to meet the educational needs of approximately 50 million adults in our country is a great undertaking and the educational institutions should accept a full share of the responsibility.

Other topics of more immediate interest to registrars discussed during the remaining days of the convention were the importance of the human touch in administration; advanced standing procedure; the making of class and examination schedules; photographic equipment and methods in the registrar's office; and cumulative records and reports.

The convention closed with a business meeting on Thursday afternoon, April 25.

* * * PIPE DREAMS * * *

I hope it is merely a coincidence that during the past few years the freshman class have undergone operations for appendicitis. Let us return to date, to the old Leota Fink, May Eggers, Irah Anderson and finally, of all people, Fred Schuler.

Should this situation continue, I do not see in what way it would be out of place for the local doctors to make a new endowment for Wartburg. In fact such an endowment could be turned into a profitable investment.

So here may I humbly submit the following plan: Let the local doctors set up a fund amounting to $100,000. At 4 per cent interest, such a fund would net $4,000 annually. Now this money could be used for scholarships with certain specifications.

What for? To attract new likely appendicitis patients to Wartburg, to make more business for local doctors, to set up new endowment funds, to attract new students, to get more business.

Meet the New Office Girl

You've been noticing a new face around the office the last few days, haven't you? Well, allow me to introduce you: Miss June Stange, may I present the student body (do pardon me if I don't know you all).

Miss Stange comes to us from Muscatine, Iowa. Does the large sound familiar? Well, that's the town which furnished the splendid Iowa basketball team that defeated (dignified word) Waverly in the state basketball tournament. But really no matter what your personal reaction to basketball is, the town is well noted for its pearls.

ALUMNI

Article I—Name.

The name of this organization shall be: "The Association of Alumni and Former Students of Wartburg College."

Article II—Membership.

(a) All those who were eligible for membership in the Alumni Association of the institutions now merged in Wartburg College, "The Wartburgers of Waverly," "St. Paul Lutheran College Alumni Association," and "The S. L. C. Alumni" shall be eligible for membership in this association.

(b) All graduates of the merged Wartburg college and those students of this institution who have completed a minimum of full year of academic work shall be eligible for membership in this association.

(c) Members of the faculty of Wartburg college not eligible for regular membership and friends who have rendered distinctive service to Wartburg college or any of the institutions merged therein may become honorary members of this association.

"Coming events cast their shadow before." Already we envision loaded automobiles carrying passengers along the highway, they come from all directions; some from greater distances others from nearer by; some passengers are tossed with excitement due to the serious obligations resting upon them when they reach their destination; others are more carefree and have come along for the ride. All are focused on one and the same goal and destination: THE ALUMNI MEETING OF WARTBURG COLLEGE.

The time is drawing nigh with giant strides. Very shortly the college will send forth announcements and invitations for commencement week. The alert alumni committees will also send forth their information and appeals for the annual meeting of business and frolics. Definite plans are underway for the social gathering which shall include the initiation of the new graduates. Rev. R. C. Schuler heads this committee. You won't want to miss the inspiration of that occasion.

The special anniversary committee has been active and will have something "very good" to present for the consideration of all loyal alumni members.

Two things are uppermost in our minds as we plan for the greatest and grandest alumni session Wartburg ever experienced! The one is: Have all loyal alumni of Wartburg, graduates and former students, pay their dues now and do not wait until commencement week. That would be most encouraging to your officers and committees. The second is: Plan to be present in person and to bring your friends who should be friends of Wartburg with you.

Dates and plans will reach you later on; but mark that calendar right now for the week of JUNE SECOND.—Louis G. Kiehs, Alumni President.

Church Workers Address Sem Group

Two special projects related to the work of the church were brought to the attention of interested seminarians during the past weeks by Rev. Frederick Scholz, student director of the American Lutheran Conference, and Rev. M. L. Biskoff of Peoria, Ill., a member of the pension plan committee of the American Lutheran Church. Rev. Scholz, in a talk designed especially for seniors, outlined the opportunities and methods of work among Lutheran students who attend state colleges. His cause was presented Monday evening, April 22.

On Tuesday afternoon, April 23, Rev. Biskoff gave an informal presentation of the newly-adopted pension plan of the church. Following his remarks, the floor was thrown open for questions and a lively discussion ensued.

LEADS TEAM TO WIN

Rosamond Eckstein's typing team from the Libertyville high school won first in accuracy at the district typing contest for that part of Iowa and so will compete in honors in the state contest. This is the second year Miss Eckstein will have taken to the state contest. Last year her team from the Wesley high school also having won in district contest.

Rosamond is a graduate of Wartburg college and is the daughter of the Fred Ecksteins of Waverly. She has been teaching two years. Her subjects are music and typing.

OCTET OFFERS VARIED PROGRAM

Seminary Group Sings Types of Church Music in Iowa and Wisconsin.

A varied and educational program illustrating the development of sacred song in the Christian church was presented by the Wartburg Seminary Octet which sang in northern Iowa and southern Wisconsin towns the past two weekends.

Dr. Albert Jagnow of the seminary faculty accompanied the group and presented several of the different types of church music which were then illustrated by selections of the octet. Wherever possible, Dr. Jagnow offered special organ numbers.

Featured in the program was the singing of two ancient plain songs in unison by the group, as well as the rendition of favorite Lutheran chorals from the Reformation period, including Ein Feste Burg, O Sacred Head Now Wounded, Frase To The Lord, and Contate Domino. Other outstanding numbers were Magnificat, Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee, and the well known composition, Gloria from the 12th Mass.

Special numbers were offered by the quartet Sanctus, Hosanna, Ye the Lord Then, (C. Stein) in addition to the burlesque solo offered by Norbert Beyer, Boer who studied under Dr. F. Mehus Christiansen at St. Olaf college before coming to the seminary this year, also directs the octet.

Members of the group are: First Tenors, Albert Gurtlauff and Ervin Seidel; second tenors, Erwin Knitt and Norbert Boer; first baritone, Albert Kuenen and second baritone, Wagner; second basses, Herman Sentt and Leonard Dornier.

SEMINARIANS AT LSA MEET

Attend Convention at Cedar Falls, Apr. 27.

Seven members of the Wartburg Seminary student body attended the Worker's conference of the Lutheran Student's Association held at Cedar Falls April 27, on the campus of the Iowa State Teachers college, under the direction of Martin Ackermann, seminary senior.

In addition to devotional periods including group Bible studies of the methods of Christ contrasted with the purely human approach to individuals and an inspirational address by Rev. Frederick Scholz, speakers discussed the duties of L. S. A. officers were held with the newly elected officers from the numerous colleges which sent delegations.

At the afternoon meeting, the recommendations of these individual groups were presented to the group for further discussion and action. Mr. Ackermann, who had served as the leader of the Mission Secretary's discussion presented the summary and recommendations of his group at the time.

Schools represented at this conference, the first of its kind attempted, were State Teachers college of Cedar Falls, the host school; Wartburg college, Waverly; Grinnell, Grinnell; Iowa State college, Ames; Luther college, Decorah; Dubuque University, Dubuque; and Wartburg Theological Seminary, Dubuque. In addition there were several of the Regional officers of the Land of Lakes region also present.

The delegation from the seminary included Martin Ackermann, Paul Kenyon, Ernst Pappas, Luverne Meinicke, Eugene Leschinsky, Otto Matthias, Melvin Buehler and Charles Schmitz.

Seminary Notes

Octet To Give Concert

The evening of May 12 has been set aside for the home concert of the Wartburg Seminary Octet. The eight men of song will present their concert in a series of three, illustrating the historical development of church music, at St. John's Lutheran church in downtown Dubuque. Dr. A. Jagnow presents the historical commentary and presides at the organ. Norbert Boer, seminary junior, is the director.

Who's Who

Plans are being made for the completion of an up-to-date list of Wartburg Seminary graduates and short life sketches, according to a resolution passed by the seminary faculty recently. Eric Hoefer, senior seminary man, has started the work in Dubuque, and either Rev. John Haefner of Muscatine or Dr. E. E. Egan of New Hampton will be asked to assume charge of the outside work to be done on this project.

Rooters

Twenty seminarians braved occasional showers and breezing weather last Monday afternoon to watch Wartburg engage Leora in a well-played, low-scoring baseball VII. Among them were staff Wartburg past baseball notables as Greg Reiff, Carl Kalkwarf, Dave Herman, and Walter Pfeiffer.

Building

Work on a new house for Dr. M. Rev. dean of the seminary faculty was begun during the last fortnight. The frame structure is being erected to the south of the other seminary residences.

Mattes Speaks

Next week, May 8-10, Dr. J. C. Mattes will deliver a series of lectures in Capital Seminary, Columbus, Ohio, as part of the exchange professorship plan worked out by the seminary faculty recently. His topic will be modern problems of the pastor.

Dr. Mattes travelled to Chicago April 25-26 to speak at a two-day religious convocation at Maywood theological seminary. He delivered two lectures on modern social problems. Lutheran leaders of several synods participated in the session.

Wartburg Sem Sponsors

Dubuque University L. S. A. Martin Ackermann, senior seminary man and recent leader at the Workers conference in Cedar Falls has been successful in getting a group of Lutheran students on the Dubuque university campus to organize as members of the Land of Lakes region. Three delegates were sent by the group to the Cedar Falls conference and plans are being made to secure a seminary as pastor to advise their group along with their faculty advisor.

Buying Lectures on Frontier

Rev. Paul H. Bickering, A. M., D. D., dean of the Capital theological seminary in Columbus, Ohio, devoted five lectures to a detailed study of "American Christianity in the Frontier." The lectures were given to the students during the week beginning April 22. These lectures which were a part of the plan for the exchange of lectures between the two American Lutheran church seminaries, were delivered in five parts, dealing with "frontier" people, ministers, churches, education and news.

Mission Pictures Shown

Following the regular meeting of the Seminary Mission society, motion pictures of the work of the United Lutheran Church in China were shown in the school room. These films were secured through the courtesy of Dr. George Drach, who earlier had sent films on the work in India.

Personal: Louis Fabrikus was a visitor on the Wartburg seminary campus along with Sigmund Sander, who was enroute to his home in Bellevue, April 30.

Dr. J. C. Mattes of the Wartburg seminary faculty spoke to the members of 15 Lutheran Brotherhood groups of the St. Paul (Minn.) federation Monday night, April 15. He maintained that education, jobs, and spiritual development are the responsibility of the church for its youth.

Dr. J. C. Mattes attended the Lutheran Welfare society meeting of Iowa on April 16 at Des Moines.

According to word just received at the seminary, Martin Ackermann, Lee Center, Minn., senior who graduates this spring, has received his visa to leave for New Guinea July 24.

BUENA VISTA BEAVERS TROMP WARTBURG 10-4

Nine Walks and Nine Hits Spell Knight Defeat.

The Waverly of Waverly Knights, coupled with the Buena Vista Beavers, proved too much for the Knights' bats to overcome, and the Beavers led to a decisive victory at Buena Vista by a score of 10-4, at the Waverly municipal field Friday afternoon.

The Beavers used two pitchers while Wartburg had three. Bunters, the firing line, Emmons, Langeloh, four and one-half innings, when Petersen was called in to pitch. He twirled two and one-half innings, with Kappner never finishing the game.

Open Scoring in Third.

Knight team scored only in the third inning. Then the Beavers broke loose for five runs, getting hits, a walk, and a fielder's error. In their half the third Wartburg got two of these runs scored on singles by Kalkwarf, Kappner, and Emmons, coupled with a walk. The Beavers scored six runs, each of the fifth and sixth innings, and put three across the rubber in the seventh. Wartburg came up with two runs in the sixth on two walks and angles. Kalkwarf and Kalkwarf, and two fielders.

Knights Out-hit.
The Knights rapped out eight hits while Buena Vista collected nine. Emmons struck out two in the fourth and eighth innings. He worked. Petersen whiffed two in the two and two-thirds innings he pitched, and Kappner failed to get a strikeout in the two innings he pitched.

A stiff wind made hard hitting impossible and there were only two extra-base knocks. A triple was played by Kunkel of Buena Vista in the eighth, and Reichenberg of the Knights smashed out double in the ninth. A total of five walks was given by Waverly pitchers, while Wartburg received only three gift passes from Buena Vista hurlers.

DIARY

By
E. J. Corns

Mon., Apr. 22—Up and betides this dreary day albeit this morning I did bring home my essays from various members of the globe-trotting monsters. I do not know things from them which does make me opine that touring would be much more to my liking than attending classes.

Tues., Apr. 23—Up and about my mind and body. The day I do does cause me much concern as it passively reminds me that the end is near. And so to the hospital to visit with friend fish who does convalesce after her operation. I did find her in fine fettle and putting the decorating flowers to shame. So after passing the day in the hospital with pleasant company none to decipher those crude markings in my Greek book.

Thurs., Apr. 25—This day I did. Root perform some amazing tricks of magic which did leave me much puzzled. After this I did attend several more classes and my amazelement was increased exceedingly.

Fri., Apr. 26—I did hear this day that our Fred Schiele did also undergo the surgeon's knife. Would it be more of our company succumbs to any more maladies as a goodly share, we have had this year. This day I did shout with joy when I did hear that our Lads did turn the Quakers on their far-off diamond.

Sat., Apr. 27—All this day I did so about my toil as did the proverbial and albeit this day I did not do prepare for the winter come while I do labor to show up the flow of little white dust which derivate from the treasurer's office for last winter's insurance. I did also hear that our Darlyce did quit school to take up employment as office force. To wit, good luck.

Sun., Apr. 28—All this day I did witness the robbery of the Constantinian fair and some home via Oelwein where I did take on two passengers who were not but happy from their week-end. So home where I did find the shorties disembarking from their journeys. After many tellings of tales to bed.

Tues., Apr. 30—Up and about, traversing my beaten path and finding much of interest yet along the way. This eventide I did find Bro. Walz to be our guest in the dorm. Sleep well this night, Erv.

Thurs., May 2—This afternoon I did attend a committee meeting by proxy and find that by all reports the group did function in a manner without me. I was able to witness the baseball game as my chores for the afternoon cannot be postponed if I am to

Music Notes

A quartet, composed of Bob Wiederstrom, Luther Meyer, Richard Moerk, and Harold Teske, will sing "How A Rose E'er Blooming" by Praetorius for convocation Friday, Apr. 29. They also sang this selection Sunday morning, Apr. 28, at the Evangelical church.

Richard Moerk sang a baritone solo "No Night" by Danks for convocation Friday, Apr. 26. Olivia Dief accompanied him on the piano.

For convocation Tuesday, Apr. 30, Ruth Mandorl played a piano solo, "Fugue in D Major" by Bach.

Keep my pipe full and feet shod. This twilight play rehearsal where Lorna Mac and Norm Orth did hold forth beautifully. With a bit of cooperation lights are light.

Fri., May 3—This A. M. I did have a very convocation but an austere student body did mull over the problems of changes in the student government. Melrose is a step in the right direction and to those with far-sightedness whose job it was to lead, thanks.

PETERSON HURLS KNIGHT VICTORY OVER PENN, 4-1

Locals Win Behind
4 Hit Pitching in
4 Inning Game.

With Marvin Plavous, husky young right-hander from Rockwell, Iowa, hurling four-hit ball, and the Knights pounding the opposing pitcher for seven hits, Wartburg downed the Quakers at Penn last Thursday, Apr. 25, by a score of 4-1.

Old Man Plavous decreed that the game be played on a rain-swept field, and showers frequently interrupted the game. The fireworks for Wartburg started in the first inning. The Knights combined three hits, a sacrifice and a passed ball for two runs. Then led off with a single, and was sacrificed to second by Kappmeyer. He went to third on Leschensky's single, and scored on a passed ball, Leschensky going second. Emmans' single drove him in with the second run of the inning.

Again in the third inning Wartburg circled the bases for two runs. Leschensky's smashed a long triple into right centerfield. Then Schater came up to bat and punted a double out to right field, driving in Leschensky and Emmans with the two more tallies, the last of the game.

The game was called off at the end of the fourth inning because the intermittent showers turned into a downpour. As it was agreed to play seven innings, the game was official as it was more than half finished.

BASEBALL GAME, TENNIS MATCH ON SENIOR DAY

Wartburg vs. Penn on Diamond and Court, May 8.

High school seniors and other interested baseball fans will trek to the Waverly municipal field on May 8 to witness a reproduction of baseball rivalry when the 1940 edition of the Wartburg Knights will meet the Penn Quakers from Okaloosa on Wartburg's Senior day.

A rivalry should indeed be very keen. The Wartburg Knights downed the Quakers twice last year and beat them 4-1 in their first meeting this year. Penn will

Adieu Postponed

Here I was all set to say "adieu" to the readers of the Trumpet sports department and the Sports department itself, when I was informed that my office would have to take care of another issue of the paper so I will have to postpone my little crying spell and keep my going away gifts for another two weeks. I was, indeed, hoping to turn over this department into able hands for the next two issues, but the fates decree otherwise—so says the Oracle. So I must fill space for two more issues.

Curiosity.

My curiosity has indeed been aroused by the unusual amount of interest shown in track at Wartburg. The turnout, in fact, is staggering. I can offhand give no satisfactory explanation of the phenomenon, and thus my curiosity is aroused. Will somebody please tell me why just one—yes, I said just one—man turns out for track. After all, Wartburg track teams are not simply supposed to be decaathlons (one person competing in ten events). There is the possibility that track is not stressed at all and probably would be given little attention. There is the possibility that the track star of high school days (or days) they come to Wartburg team or the baseball nine that they forget all about their track and field interests. Yes, it is a mystery. "But mysteries are what makes life interesting."

One and Two.

That is the way our baseball season looks at present with one win and two losses. It was a short game that brought in the initial win to Wartburg in the opening game of the season. The second game was sort of conceded to the opponents and we were pleasantly surprised to hear of a 4 to 2 score behind the five hit pitching of Marv Peterson. That really must have been a whale of a ball game. The first home game proved to be quite a disastrous opening, while what I might have called a Wartburg victory to be "Gone With the Wind!" It really was a sloppy game with lots of poor pitching—nine bases on balls is enough to beat any team, coupled with nine hits. It was one of those games when everything seemed to go wrong at the same time—poor pitching, easy chances muffed, poor base running, etc. It just wasn't a ball game.

Bright Saying.

You might be interested, especially you baseball players, in a little excerpt from a Dubuque paper on the Wartburg-Loras game. "a much weaker Wartburg team which gave the Du-Hawks little trouble." How do you like that? The first place 4 to 2 is plenty good and a plenty close ball game in any man's league; secondly, Loras got only five hits off Peterson in the game; thirdly, Peterson struck out only eleven Du-Hawks—some irony I call it—Wartburg gave Loras little trouble. Must have been a greenhorn that wrote that article. Maybe he just looked at the score.

Racketeers.

The opening match for the tennis team was not so heartening but was somewhat expected with Wartburg's squad as yet very much without practice because of the damp courts. The T. C. frosh team that shellacked us is made up of four men who were No. 1 men on their high school teams last year—and from big schools, too. They have hundreds of hard surfaced courts, well, almost a hundred, on which to practice. So we can understand the defeat quite easily. Have you ever tried to play tennis in a brisk wind? Ought to try it sometime. It's fun! The team also played without the services of stellar Lew Holm who cannot make the team until next week, according to a ruling made by the Athletic Council in regard to chair members. But his addition to the squad will strengthen the team immensely.

Congratulations!

Congratulations to Marty Heist who has been elected next year's Hoop captain. Marty is undoubtedly one of the finest players ever to don a Wartburg uniform, and he is a hard working straight shooting, clean player who will make a great captain for Wartburg. Good luck, Marty.

Mention must also be made of the fine pitching which Marv Peterson has been doing—5-hit ball against Loras is a real accomplishment. Keep up the good work Marv!

undoubtedly play for revenue while the Knights will be striving to maintain their supremacy.

A shakeup in the Knight lineup may be made by Coach "Doc" Peterson will probably receive the pitching assignment with Emmans probably retaining his position at the hot corner.

But those fans not interested in baseball will be allowed to divert their interest into another channel. The Wartburg tennis squad will receive their first win in the Penn racketeers. Such veteran stars as Marty Heist and Lew Holm will undoubtedly receive singles assignments, while Anderson, Jackson, Stiersen, Erwin Heist, Lagomarekio, and Flagg may also see action.

Dr. Hiltner will preach the sermon at a Luther League convention to be held at Sheffield, Iowa, May 5.

Heist Named Captain

Marty Heist has been chosen to lead the Knight basketball team for the next year. Marty is surely the logical man for the position granted him; not only does he know the game of basketball, but he has that ability to get along with everybody. Marty was the individual star of the Waverly high school team in his prep days and was a star on this year's Wartburg squad. When he came to Wartburg he was a dependable substitute in his freshman year. In his sophomore year he was on the varsity and was always a man to be feared both on offense and defense. In the campaign just finished, he was the second leading scorer on the team and was one of the hardest workers Coach McKinzie had to work with. Marty will be a senior next year and will be depended upon for a lot of basketball in his closing campaign.
